VACATIONS FOR MINISTERS.

What Some Baptist Preachers Think of Fishing and Summer Holidays.

At a recent conference of Baptist ministers in New York, the topic of "Vacations" was freely discussed. The following clipping from the Sun's report of the debate, makes entertaining reading.

Brother Foote said that ministers are guilty of a species of fraud in calling attention so clamorously to the excessive fatigue they undergo. Ministers have no right to ask alms—they are not harder worked than other classes of men. In fact they are exempted from the perplexities, the anxiety, and the strain at heart that the men of business have to endure. Brother Gault believed in vacations. He studied and worked hard for eleven months, and when he came back at the end of a month of rest, he was worth twice as much—his congregation thought so too. He didn't fish—fishing was an abominable occupation—the most abominable occupation ever invented—he never caught a fish in his life and he didn't want to. "That's the reason you don't want to," said Dr. Miller. Mr. Gillette took a vacation when he could get one. Had one every year. He didn't ask for it; his people gave it. Nothing sickened his soul more than to see a minister begging for sympathy, affection, support, etc. He had it all and more than he deserved. But he didn't ask for it. Mr. Grinnell said that for bodily recreation nothing did him so much good as to go out bluefishing. It is grand fun, especially when the waves run high. Mr. Hedden liked to fish, even if he didn't get a bite. He could think while fishing, even when catching no fish.

IT IS REST—ACTIVE REST, for the mental and moral nature is diverted into a new channel. Dr. Lodge said that in three months a minister does harder work than any lawyer in New York city does in a year. If lawyers should write such sermons as ministers write, it would prostrate the lawyers. Dr. Lodge thought that it was unfortunate that such a decided stand had been taken in opposition to vacations. "Some old ladies reading the Sun to-morrow morning," he said, "will chuckle and say, 'That's what I always thought—ministers ought to stay at home and read.' And men will say, 'Just the pastor I would like—one who don't need a vacation!' But there are poor ministers who need a vacation this minute. Dr. McArthur is sensible in saying, 'Take your choice, stay or go!' I shall go!"

Dr. Miller thought it necessary to go into the country; the people who stay at home will take care that the church is kept open. His church had not been without a pastor in over thirty years. [Applause] As to calling ministers professional men, he objected. No one has a right to compare ministers with the professions. The ministry is above and outside the professions. Their anxiety is different from that of professional men. He was going, and he was going to fish. Dr. McArthur said in conclusion that a minister ought not to ask for free tickets; he should be a man among men. "That's right!" cried one of the ministers.

The Growth of a Feather.

Popular Science Monthly.

For the interesting point about a feather is really this, that it grew. It was not made in a moment, like a bullet poured red hot into a mold; its little airy plumes, branched like a fern into tiny waving filaments, were developed by slow steps, piece after piece, and spikeler after spikeler. And what is true of this particular bit of down which I hold in my fingers, trembling like gossamer at every breath and every pulse, is also true of plumage as a whole in the history of animal evolution. To my mind that great fact, that everything has grown, throws a fresh and wonderful interest into every little object which we can pick up about our fields or our houses. The old view of creation, which represented it as single and instantaneous, made each creature or each organ seem like a mere piece of mechanism, with no history, no puzzle, and no recognizable relation to its like elsewhere. But the new view, which represents creation as continuous, progressive and regular, teaches us to see in every species or every structure a result of previous causes, an adaptation of pre-existing needs. Thus we are enabled to find in a flower, a fruit, or a feather, innumerable clues which lead us back to its ultimate origin, and give delightful exercise to our intelligence in tracing out the probable steps by which this complex whole has been produced.

Rock Drilling Match.

[Gold Hill News.]

The drilling match between Robert Large and Henry Tonkin at the Yellow Jacket new works last Saturday resulted in a victory for Large. The conditions were, each man to strike down a hole two feet deep in a piece of solid granite, the man accomplishing the task in the shortest time to win the stakes, which were $100 a side. Tonkin struck first and put down his hole in 51½ minutes. Large then took the hammer and forced his steel the required depth in exactly 40 minutes. A considerable amount of money changed hands on the result. Large is a carpenter by trade. Tonkin is an experienced miner.

CHURCHILL COUNTY.

Crop Prospects on the Sink of the Carson—The Grasshopper Outlook.

Correspondence Silver State.

The river is higher than before for three years, at the same season of the year. Crops never looked better than at present. There will be at least one thousand tons of barley harvested on the sink of the Carson, from not more than 1200 acres. This is coming very near to an average of one ton to the acre—a very good yield for Nevada—and eclipsing by far any crop ever before produced in Churchill. At Stillwater there is one field of 400 acres that will harvest, it is estimated 450 tons. It is literally a prairie of barley and to see it waving and nodding in the summer breeze is enough to fill one who is accustomed to the never ceasing monotony of sand and sagebrush, with ecstatic joy. Our valley is as yet unmolested to any great extent with that plague of the West—the winged grasshopper. They have put in an appearance in some portions of the valley, but have not come in sufficient numbers to damage the crops. It is feared by many that what there are, will deposit their eggs and make a general havoc next year. If they lay their eggs on the desert, this is likely to be the case, but if they should deposit them in the fields, we are of the opinion that they will be destroyed by the first irrigation in the spring by overflowing the entire field, as we do, before they are yet hatched, but, if we are to have them, have them we must. Alfalfa crops are not extra on the sink this season, yet good crops will probably be harvested.

A Fish-Hawk Story.

N. Y. Sun.

Along toward evening I saw a big trout jumping for flies about twenty feet from shore, opposite the tent. I stood on the shore and dropped my flies over where the trout was making out a supper. He nabbed one of my hooks quicker than lightning, and the next minute was making the reel hum as he rushed out toward the middle of the pond. He took every foot of line there was on the reel before he stopped, and when he stopped he leaped out of the water—well, two feet. I thought sure I'd lose him, for he tugged like a harpooned whale. While I was trying to reel in some of the line I saw a flash of something that seemed to drop from the sky, and then heard a plunge in the water. There was a great splash and struggle in the pond for a second or two, and then I saw a monster fish-hawk sailing off with my trout. Before I could recover from my surprise the $40 rod was jerked from my hands and followed the hawk and fish. There was only one thing to do. John C.'s rifle stood against a tree ten feet away. I jumped for it. The hawk didn't look much bigger than a pigeon, and the trout rod had dwindled to a school boy's arrow. I drew a bead. The ball went where it was sent; the hawk tumbled into the middle of the pond. I rowed out and found it dead in the water. Its talons still grasped the trout, and the line and rod were still attached to the fish. I had to cut the tendons of the hawk's claws to get 'em loose. The trout weighed nearly two pounds.

A WRONG VIEW OF THE CASE.

Quoting an item from the GAZETTE on the fishing question the Truckee Republican says:

When we remember that the fishermen have always boasted of the illegal methods by which these 10,000 pounds per week were caught, we are unable to mingle our tears with those of the GAZETTE. If a den of smugglers had been broken up at Pyramid lake, would the GAZETTE lament the consequent loss of business? For the encouragement of our sage brush neighbor, we will state that Rene and Wadsworth will probably suffer nothing. By means of seines, drag nets, wheels, spears, grab-hooks and other nefarious contrivances, the usual amount of trout will probably be taken annually. The law heretofore had no terrors for these squaw-wired gentry, and it is not probable the new decision will receive much attention.

This does our fishermen great injustice. Some of the best men in Washoe county engage in fishing in Pyramid lake part of every year for a livelihood. Eminent lawyers, who have examined the case, assure these men that there is no legal reservation there, and they thought they had a perfect right there. They have been induced, we think mistakenly, to appeal to the district court and make an aggressive fight for the upsetting of the reservation. The GAZETTE has advised that they recognize the validity of the grant, and that a combined and strong effort be made to reduce it and get a pardon for the fishermen. One thing is certain, the land is owned by the United States, and whether it is held as an Indian reservation or not the authorities have a great advantage over parties who have no claim either by homestead, pre-emption or settlement, to the land on the shore where they go to fish. We greatly fear that the fishermen are listening to bad advisers and will suffer for their boldness.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The attempt to beat poor Sharon out of his hardly earned senatorial salary has naturally created much sympathy for him in Nevada. Devotion to local interests has prevented his attendance at the national capital, and now, on the purely technical ground that he hasn't earned the money, Secretary Burch denies him payment. Not without cause has Bullion Bill been absent from Washington. He was obliged to remain in San Francisco and stand under the stock market, in order to protect the investments of his Nevada constituents.

The sailing of the steamer Jeanette, the N. Y. Herald Arctic expedition craft, attracted considerable attention in San Francisco yesterday. The wharves and hill-tops were crowded with spectators. The Jeanette is a bark-rigged vessel, of 420 tons register, built long and low, and was formerly a dispatch boat in the English navy. Her appointments are the best that science and experience could direct to fit her for the long and dangerous cruise in search of the North Pole.

A London telegram advises that the body of the Prince Imperial, the remains of French Imperialism, will be landed in England to-night. The English who, almost worship military courage, who raised costly monuments to Wellington and to Nelson, but none to Shakespeare, Byron or Dickens, the English feel deeply the death of the brave young prince who fell beneath the spears of savages while fighting under the British flag.

The Alta refers to the late celebration, as follows:

Any one who noted the utter recklessness with which bombs, rockets, etc., were thrown in all directions on the Fourth must be amazed that there were so few resultant deaths, accidents and fires. Our semi-barbarous way of celebrating that particular holiday is about as hideous and dangerous a method as could be easily devised.

A telegram from St. Petersburg states that the cost to Russia of the late war with Turkey was $150,000,000, over $700,000,000 in our money. Russia don't mind the loss of a few hundred thousand men or so, having many millions to draw from; but having "a plentiful lack" of rubles, that $150,000,000 must make the bear's head sore.

The Sacramento Bee, now in its forth-sixth volume, is, in its new dress, the handsomest, as it has long been one of the brightest newspapers of the coast.

If the London Truth may be believed, Cetewayo, the Zulu king's name, should be pronounced so as to sound like a sneeze; thus, Kitcho.

That excellent newspaper the San Jose Herald has entered upon its twenty-seventh volume.

Senator Newton Booth is now at home in California.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

Portland, Oregon, was visited by a hail and thunder storm on the 5th. Mrs. Natz was seriously burned at Los Angeles while kindling a fire with kerosene.

Two hundred and fifty emigrants from Iceland, bound to Minnesota, have arrived at Granton.

The Nevada county hydraulic miners are likely to commence a season's washing without further disturbance by injunctions.

The Plumas National says that a couple of lucky miners found a nugget worth $500, on Winters creek a few days since.

Last week the mountains south of the Vineyard, Monterey county, were on fire several days. A large area of territory was burned off.

A miner who is working a claim on Democrat Gulch in Josephine county, Oregon, recently cleaned up $500 after a single week's run.

Considerable mining property is now changing hands in Utah, and miners who have mines that are promising, experience no difficulty in finding purchasers.

The Miners' Union of Nevada City has 111 names on the roll of membership. The laws governing the association are similar to those of the Virginia City Miners' Union.

A man named "Russian Charley" came into Seattle, Washington, on the 5th, and said that a party of Yakima Indians had attacked him. Officers who went in pursuit were fired upon. Reinforcements have been sent.

The Asoria and Winnemucca Railroad Company was organized at Astoria on the 5th. One-half the capital stock has been subscribed and a ten per cent. assessment levied. Engineers will be placed in the field at once.

Robert Sloan, an old American Camp miner, last week, in prospecting near Five-mile Creek, Tulare county, California, discovered an exceedingly rich quartz lode. The vein is struck as it crops out of the ground, but is forty or fifty pounds he broke off and nearly half gold in weight. The ore is so rich that it flattens out in the mortar when pounded, like lead.

John Behring, a miner in Greenhorn gulch, suicided by strychnine at the Eleven-mile house, says the Helena Herald. He was troubled on account of interest due on a note, and in a fit of despondency concluded to die. After taking the poison he repented the rash act, told his wife, and called for milk as an antidote to the drug. The milk was administered to him freely, but he could not be helped, and died in great agony.

Mining Mania in New York.

New York, July 8. — The Times has a two-column article on the coming "Mining Mania." It says: "Indications are too many and too plain to be mistaken that a fever of speculation is beginning in gold and silver mining stocks. Brokers who never touched this class of paper are now operating extensively in it. New mining companies are coming out with displayed advertisements in the papers and the names of men well known in politics are paraded at the head of the company prospectuses. Every little exchange shop down town has its freshly written placard announcing that all kinds of stocks are bought and sold there. Inventors are to be found by the dozen who have a process by which the metal may be got out in the shortest possible time, and at a nominal cost; and more significant than this, a number of well known stock operators have gone, or are about to start, for the West for the purpose of buying up mining properties. Old hands at the mining business look for a rage of speculation by next Fall, and are preparing to make their big strike. At present symptoms of disturbance are confined almost exclusively to the speculating classes, but if the feeling grows to a mania, as abroad observers anticipate, it will influence for good or evil, and principally the latter, hundreds and perhaps thousands of innocent people who have small accumulations which they desire to place out to advantage."

Nevada Air for Consumptives.

The physicians of California have been accustomed to refer to the climate of Nevada, and especially to that of the Coast, as very bad for persons suffering from pulmonary diseases. Recently a leading physician of Sacramento recommended a patient suffering from one of these complaints, and who contemplated coming to Nevada, to go to one of the south-western counties of California, and by means to keep away from Nevada. The patient went to a leading physician of this city for information as to the character of this climate in reference to diseases of the lungs. The physician promptly replied that it was the very best he knew on the Pacific coast, and he had practiced his profession in nearly every county in California. He further said that the dry atmosphere which prevails here, together with its purity, is the best that the contrary which has gone abroad is wholly at variance with the facts.

A distressing case of suicide has just occurred in the town of Woodbine, near Galena, Illinois, Miss Lillie Harmon, of Jewell's Prairie, being the victim. She was twenty-one years of age, and a beautiful and accomplished lady.

Ancient Soda Deposit.

Emeralda Herald, July 5th.

In the vigorous search now being prosecuted for water in this vicinity many queer things are unearthed from old wells and cisterns. The latest find was by some young men cleaning out an old well where in the early days had stood a soda factory. Among other things they brought to the surface five or six dozen of bottled soda, which, upon being tested, proved as palatable as though manufactured only yesterday. It had lain in the well for probably fifteen years. As no water has yet been discovered in the old well the soda water comes in good play these hot days.

Lake Tahoe.

Parties arriving from Lake Tahoe represent that place to the Enterprise reporter as being little short of an earthly paradise just now. The air is cool and invigorating, and everything is fresh and beautiful, for it is spring up there, and grasses green and flowers blooming in all the little valleys. High above the lake patches of snow lie in sheltered nooks about the mountain tops, while all about the bare granite peaks lift their gray heads against the deep blue of the sky. All is life and bustle at the several hotels, and the lake swarms with steamers and sail and row boats.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Scene in the House.

LONDON, July 8.—A scene in the House of Commons last night caused a sensation. A section of the Liberals having already obtained from the government great restrictions on the practice of flogging in the army and navy, endeavored by obstructions to force the abolition of corporal punishment. The Marquis of Hartington repudiated all responsibility for their action. Chamberlain, the member from Birmingham, amidst Radical cheers, said: "The Marquis of Hartington, who was formerly the leader of the Opposition, is now only the leader of a section."

Kate Webster has been found guilty of the murder of her mistress, Mrs. Thomas, at Richmond, and sentenced to death. It was ascertained that Mrs. Thomas' body was boiled and thrown into the Thames, and the head destroyed by burning.

De Lesseps states that the caution money of 2,000,000 francs required by Venezuela, anent the Panama isthmus canal, has been paid.

The Darien Canal.

PARIS, July 8.—De Lesseps stated at the last meeting of the Geographical Society that he does not think the total of the expenses of constructing the Darien canal will exceed 250,000,000 francs. The difficulties of the work were not so formidable as those which had been overcome in the construction of the Suez canal, as a railway already existed along the course of the proposed Panama canal, with a large town at each extremity.

A magnificent banquet was given to-night at the Grand Hotel to Lesseps by the members of the old Darien Canal Company, in celebration of the signing of the transfer to him of the rights and concessions for water-way across the Isthmus.

Failure of British Crops.

LONDON, July 8.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade for the past week, says: "The agricultural prospects cause very grave apprehensions. Should the rain continue, the hay crop will be useless, except as manure. The condition of wheat is uniformly ruined. Barley in heavy land is nearly ruined. Nothing but the speedy advent of the sun will prevent a complete failure of the principal crops."

The Wheat Boom.

During the flurry in breadstuffs on Monday, on the produce Exchange, at New York, a bid by two exporters for 1,000,000 bushels at $1 10 was made, but the speculative clique was unwilling to sell so large a quantity at less than $1 12. One operator said if the "unfavorable" reports continue, wheat would be cheap at $1 25, at which price the bulk of the European demand would be filled. The steamer Eng'and, of the National line, left yesterday for Liverpool, and takes out 100,000 bushels of wheat, probably the largest single shipment of wheat this season, and said to be a part of the recent heavy purchases from parties controlling No. 2 Spring.

It is said that the late G. W. M. Reynolds has made more money by his sixty or seventy cheaply sensational novels than many of the most distinguished authors in Great Britain. His earnings from his stories have been estimated as high as $300,000, which may be an exaggeration, although that would not be much more than $4,000 a novel, and some of his novels are reported to have brought him in $10,000 and $12,000 apiece.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Tony Pastor's profit in Eureka was $1500.

Tony Pastor at Carson last night and to night.

Not more than 3000 strangers in Carson on the Fourth.

Target practice is now the favorite amusement in Eureka.

A kilo of over 200,000 bricks has just been burned in Eureka.

The Pioche baseball club plays the Bristol club for $300 a side on the twelfth.

The grasshoppers have destroyed all the crops at Panaca, with the exception of corn. Their teeth slip on the kernels.

At Carson, last Monday, Ah Lee was convicted of selling whisky to Indians. He was fined $50 but took the alternative of 25 days.

The Pioche Record thinks that the drunken Indians who infest Pioche have a private still of their own in the mountains.

Theodore Fletes has commenced suit against William N. Loeke of Virginia for breach of promise and seduction, claiming damages of $10,000.

Eureka's favorite summer resort, during the hot season, is a game of pedro in the back room, and an iced punch as a refresher, if the Leader reporter knows.

A Piocher held the bridle of his horse in his mouth while watering him. A small boy set off a firecracker, the animal jumped, and the man lost three front teeth.

Lycecock, a scenic artist of Reno, has written to the trustees of the new theater building, offering to paint the scenery for a reasonable figure, says the Leader.

The Bunkerville School Census Marshal sent in his returns to the effect that George W. Lee was the father of nineteen boys and twelve girls, between the ages of six and eighteen.

Eddie Vanderleith, of Eureka, bore off the Latin prize at the Emerson Institute, at Washington, D. C. He also stood A 1, in a class of sixty-five scholars, in the Columbia Law School.

The wrestling match on Thursday night at Sutro, between J. C. Bray and William Costello, was won by Bray after a struggle of half an hour, during which the other man was thrown twice.

A slight misunderstanding at Eureka last Sunday evening, resulted in the partial displacement of an eye belonging to one of the parties to the discussion. "Gouging" is not a lost art in the city of furnaces.

The Eureka Indians have a game something like "shinney," which consists of trying to drive or carry a piece of baling rope to a set goal. They use sticks and boards in the place of the regular golf sticks.

A number of men have been digging a drain and laying a flume to carry the fresh water from the Springs in the Sutro tunnel to the main tank, from which a three-inch main will supply the town.

The young whirlwinds which course through the streets every few minutes, says the Leader, vary the monotony of the day considerably, and develop a good deal of energy on the part of our citizens in closing windows and doors. Why is not Eureka a summer resort?

Tybo boys on the Fourth were firing salutes from anvils. Boy named Mitchell was pouring powder into hole in anvil from can of powder, when explosion sent can and anvil into the air. The boy named Mitchell lost interest in the celebration, but beyond severe scorching was not injured.

A "bucket shop," called the "People's Stock Exchange," was opened yesterday at Virginia. The plan of doing business will be to purchase any stock quoted above $10 a share upon a deposit of $2 a share being made. When the stock declines so as to consume the deposit the account is wiped out and the purchaser loses his advance.

The Pioche Record calls attention to the fact that many of our mining incorporations are neglecting to comply with the law so far as placing on record in the county in which they are doing business, a certified list of the officers of such company, from President down. A failure to comply with this law is a fine of $500.

Talk is Cheap.

And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishings. If you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast when we say that we defy competition in prices in anything in our line. Besides this we have only one price. We have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at our establishment. Our stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this state. Everything we have is new. No old, musty, and out-of-date goods can be found on our shelves. We receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of our prices, and examine our stock before going into those humbugging cheap John shops in which they drum into the ears of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No storekeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing; we make a profession of everything we sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of our specialties. Remember this place, the White House, No. 19 Commercial Row.

Orders from the country promptly attended to.

He also adopts their method of teaching, which is thorough in the minutest details. For terms, etc., inquire at I. Barnett's drygoods store.

Concentrated Lemonade.

Pure concentrated lemon juice. One teaspoonful to a glass of cold water forms a delicious, refreshing, healthy lemonade. The best of Summer drinks. For sale only by Pliniger & Queen, west side Virginia street, Reno.
